PROFILE

As a second-year student eager to embark on my professional journey, I am passionately pursuing a career in Computer Engineering. With a strong academic foundation in computer science, mathematics coursework, I am driven by a desire to innovate and contribute to the ever-evolving tech landscape. My academic interests lie in areas such as embedded systems, artificial intelligence where I hope to delve deeper and contribute meaningfully to technological advancements. Through internships, coursework, and extracurricular activities, I aim to develop practical skills and gain hands-on experience that will equip me for success in my future career endeavors. I am excited about the opportunities ahead and look forward to leveraging my education and passion to make a positive impact in the technology sector.
